

Your attempt to undermine what little freedom of the media is left with no accountability and no public input or even Congressional hearings betrays my confidence in the protection of the Constitution.